GOLD MINE PROBERS ARE NAMED BY KERN

Thompson as Chairman of Committee to Investigate Alleged Misuse of Senate Stationery.

WILL MEET NEXT THURSDAY

After many delays, the Senate investigation into the alleged misuse of Senate official stationery to exploit the Gold Hill Consolidated Mines in North Carolina, is in a fair way to get under steam the last of this week. Senator Thompson, of Kansas, was selected yesterday by Senator John W. Kern to preside over the investigation. The probe will be conducted by five Senators, three Democrats and two Republicans. Chairman Thompson and Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, and Senator Lea, of Tennessee, will be the Democrats on the committee, and Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, and Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, will be the Republicans. All of them are Progressives.

Chairman Thompson said yesterday that the committee had no plans yet, and that he was waiting for Senator Chilton, of West Virginia, to return to Washington as he will be one of the principal witnesses and is one of the Senators whose committee stationery was sent out carrying a very favorable statement of the possibilities of the Gold Hill property. Chairman Thompson thought this afternoon that he would be able to call the first meeting of his committee Thursday, at which time plans will be made as to the extent of the investigation.

The committee is not authorized to pay witness fees, and its authority is not so broad as most investigations ordered by the Senate. It is not expected that the investigation will require very long. The committee will undoubtedly call Senator Chilton and Overman, and Walter George Newman, who is the moving spirit behind Gold Hill and who, it is understood, is anxious to tell the committee about his mine. The investigation also will develop just to what extent government experts have been used, and whether government employees or employees of the Senate have been promoting the sale of the stock.

FIRE VICTIMS GET WORK

Salem Begins to Shake Off Ashes and Rise from Ruins.

Salem, Mass., June 29.—Salem began to shake off the ashes and rise from the ruins today. At daybreak 6,000 men and boys who lost their homes in the fire, went to work with picks and shovels digging up the debris, loading it into wagons and carting it away.

The State fire marshal is investigating, but Salem is looking forward, not backward, is more engaged in planning for new homes than in wondering how the old homes were lost. The excitement of the fire has passed. In the business district, the stores and business buildings are being repaired.

Factories and establishments hired ten or fifteen or twenty men, according to their needs.

In the refugee camps remained only the aged and the infirm.

Even the women went to work today. Many were taken to the residential district, where they received of ashing, scrubbing floors or washing clothes, earning $1.50 to $2 for the day.

Two hundred and fifty Maiden girls were selling candy in the hope of raising $10,000 today. Their tag day yesterday raised thousands.

All business in the district is reported to be at a standstill, and 150,000 refugees are existing on public charity.

Foreign warships are now in Smyrna harbor and a British squadron is on its way there. Meanwhile Greek vessels are avoiding Turkish ports.

VANDERBILT DUCHESS IS HERE TO VISIT MOTHER

She is expected to arrive in New York this afternoon.

WARBURG AND JONES NOT YET AGREED ON

Senate Committee, However, Is Expected to Report Favorably on Other Nominations Thursday.

HAMLIN-MADDOO RUMOR DENIED

Gradually the way is clearing for a favorable report on all of the nominations for the Federal Reserve Board that were sent to the Senate by President Wilson. It is expected that when the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency meets Thursday to receive reports from subcommittees that were appointed to consider the various nominees that all of the nominations except Paul M. Warburg, of New York, and Thomas D. Jones, will be ordered favorably reported to the Senate.

The nominations of Warburg and Jones may be reported favorably at the same time, but it is doubtful. It was learned yesterday that the subcommittee which has the Warburg nomination under consideration is having difficulty in reaching a favorable report, and Senator Nelson, who is a member of the subcommittee having the Jones nomination under consideration, refused to join in a favorable report.

Members of the committee have received letters charging that Mr. Harding, of Birmingham, one of the appointees, had been in close business relations with John Skelton Williams in Southern Railroad affairs and this matter is being carefully inquired into. Up to this time all of the reports on Mr. Harding have been decidedly favorable.

Letters commending the nomination of Paul Warburg were received yesterday from Festus J. Wade, the St. Louis banker, and from representatives of Kinder Peabody & Co.

There is some complaint among Republican Senators because, it is alleged, President Wilson has selected for the Federal Reserve Board only Democrats. There was a rumor about a few days ago that Charles R. Hamlin was to serve only for the short term of two years, for which he had been appointed, and at the end of that time he would retire and Secretary McAdoo would accept an appointment for the full ten-year term to follow, retiring from the head of the Treasury Department. This story was inquired into by members of the Senate Committee, and they are inclined to doubt it. They have been assured by Mr. Hamlin that he has not made any agreement to that effect or heard any suggestion of any such agreement.

"JOHNNIE REBS" BURY "YANK" WITH HONORS

Confederate Veterans Save Former Foeman from the Potter's Field.

Sectional feeling long has been forgotten if the burying in Petersburg, Va., last Thursday by Confederate soldiers of a veteran who wore the blue is to be taken as evidence.

Bernard Brundage, Union soldier, went to Petersburg several months ago, Nobody knew from where. He got lodging at a boarding-house, where he was taken sick later and died. His body was removed to a hospital, where he died.

A stranger in a strange city, it looked as though Brundage had been buried in an unmarked grave. But the case attracted the attention of the A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans.

Robert Gilliam, Jr., T. Beckwith, the Rev. C. B. Bryan, chaplain; William B. Harrison and others who followed Gen. A. P. Hill in many a charge against the Union forces, to that Bradley did not get to go to Potter's field.

Instead the old veteran was given decent burial in Popular Grove National Cemetery. His body was lowered in the grave, the superintendent of the cemetery, himself a bugler in Gen. Hill's army, sounded "taps."

A delicate situation faces the colonel in his entry into Pennsylvania because of the negative attitude upon George W. Perkins by Amos Pinchot, brother of Gifford Pinchot, who is running for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket. Roosevelt has declared himself against Amos Pinchot in his effort to have Perkins thrown out of the Progressive party; "and yet he is going to-morrow night to speak for Gifford Pinchot, who has backed up Amos."

KIDNAPPED GIRL RESCUED.

Taken from Her Captors, Who

The man was identified as Antonio Malito, a rejected suitor of the girl.

BRITISH AUTO RACER KILLED.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.
Paris, June 29.—While driving his machine at a terrific pace near Lyons, Raphael Gimble, an English automobile racer, was killed today. His mechanical was mortally hurt.

Local Tautology.

The circumlocution of legal documents is the penalty of having a bilingual language, and descends to us from those centuries when the English and the Normans were slowly amalgamating into one people. So the two races, in the marketplace or in social converse, to make their meaning clear, joined a French word to an English, or vice versa. That is why, in the prayer book, words so often run in couples: "Humble and lowly," "accompany and confess," "assemble and meet together." The English was for the English; the Norman-French was for the French. Chaucer is a great user of such bilingual phrases: "Hunting and venery," "wright and carpenter," "care and heed." And that is whence lawyers get such talk as "aid and abet," "will and testament," and "use and wont."—London Chronicle.

CLODBURST PARTIALLY DESTROYS CITY IN JAVA

Bekkaleen Swept by Wind and Rain and Business District Left in Ruins.

Batavia, Java, June 29.—The city of Bekkaleen was partially destroyed today by a cloudburst.

The business district was left in ruins by wind and rain and a number of public buildings were wrecked.

It is feared that heavy loss of life occurred in the storm, and interruption of communication prevented the details from being sent out morning for morning.

In the plantation district the cloudburst did incalculable damage.

It was accompanied by a violent marine disturbance. The waters of Makassar Strait were agitated as though by a subterranean volcano.

The Dutch passenger steamer Vanclose was driven ashore near the port of Makassar.

T. R. PITCHES IN TODAY.

Colonel to Launch Attack on Penrose and Wilson in Pittsburgh.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 29.—Col. Roosevelt starts tomorrow morning for his plunge into the summer campaign with his trip to Pittsburgh where he launches his attack upon the Penrose machine and upon the Wilson administration in its keynote speech.

A delicate situation faces the colonel in his entry into Pennsylvania because of the negative attitude upon George W. Perkins by Amos Pinchot, brother of Gifford Pinchot, who is running for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket.

Roosevelt has declared himself against Amos Pinchot in his effort to have Perkins thrown out of the Progressive party; "and yet he is going to-morrow night to speak for Gifford Pinchot, who has backed up Amos."
